

Nanotechnology

Over the last decade, New York has made a statewide commitment to nanotechnology, investing hundreds of millions of dollars to develop shovel-ready sites and state-of-the-art facilities.

Since 2000, tens of billions of dollars, in private and public investment, has empowered New York State's semiconductor industry. Located at SUNY POLY's Marcy Campus, in the heart of New York's Nanoelectronics Manufacturing and R&D Cluster, Marcy Nanocenter provides unique opportunities for collaboration with partners such as: Intel, Samsung, TSMC, Nikon, and Global Foundries.
